CAMP DIRECTOR

Rick Daniels
(610) 436-2159 rdaniels@wcupa.edu

Rick Daniels has served as the head coach at WCU for the past 14 years.

In 1999, he earned his fourth PSAC East Championship ring and his fourth PSAC East Coach of the Year honor.

Daniels has posted a career winning percentage of .586 (81-57-1). He has recorded the second most wins in WCU history.

Daniels has guided the Golden Rams to the NCAA Division II Playoffs three times in his career.

Daniels has been lauded not only for his coaching, but for his role as a contributor and active participant in the WCU community. He views his role as an educator, as well as a coach.

"My most important role as head coach, and my first priority, is to make sure the players get an education and graduate. My philosophy is they are here to go to class and graduate. That's the bottom line. It is important to me they get their degrees."

Camp Objectives

The WCU Youth Football Camp is a fundamentally-based program emphasizing individual instruction. Campers are taught position-specific skills (offense & defense), techniques, and drills which will enhance their game performance.

Additional emphasis will be placed upon speed improvement, agility development, and specialty skills including kicking, punting, long and short snapping, and holding for kicks.

The coaching staff will teach in an enthusiastic manner and share an appreciation for the game, particularly the qualities of sportsmanship.

The ultimate goal of the WCU Youth Football Camp is to provide each participant with an enjoyable and rewarding experience.
